This Policy is a commitment by CRISIL Limited (CRISIL) to be environmentally responsible in its operations.

CRISIL recognizes the potential of its operations and large employee footprint, to create an impact on natural ecosystems through usage of resources such as energy and water as well as through emissions and other outputs. CRISIL therefore believes that environment considerations should form an important element of its business activities and strives to minimize this impact.

As a business, we are fully committed to improving environmental performance across all our business activities and will encourage our employees and members of the wider community to join us in this effort.
